Message from Chancellor

Yang Berbahagia
Tan Sri Dato' Seri
Dr Jeffrey Cheah AO

Founder and Chairman,
Sunway University College

Let me warmly congratulate all graduates from the various disciplines of Business, Computer Technology, Creative Arts and Communication, Health and Natural Sciences and Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Management. You have done yourselves, and your parents and teachers proud! I am certain today is a significant achievement for you and I have no doubt it will be an important milestone in your life.

The graduation ceremony of any institution of higher learning is the highlight of its academic calendar and programme. I believe that this would be one of your most important defining moments in life. As you reflect on your own hard work and accomplishment, it is also a time that you will think about your future.

You are now embarking on another chapter or journey in your life. I hope that what you have learnt – be it the theory or the practical lessons, as well as the philosophy behind these lessons – will help you face and address the challenges that you encounter along the way. Ahead, I believe that your learning and experience gained at Sunway University College has empowered you to excel in the career or venture you choose.

Sunway University College has 381 students graduating today, to share this important achievement with you. We are also proud to have outstanding students like you who are now part of Sunway University College's legacy in successfully producing outstanding graduates and fine individuals in the society.

Our achievement in producing world-class graduates has also responded to the country's call for talent in human capital. Malaysia aspires to compete internationally as a knowledge-based economy. It is through our human talent that we will fuel our country's prospects for faster socio-economic growth. As you step out to the community today, I hope that you will make a positive contribution and impact on our society.

In June this year, we awarded scholarships to 785 recipients through the Jeffrey Cheah Foundation. To date, a total of RM50 million in scholarships have been awarded to deserving students. Sunway University College today, fully operates under this Foundation. All proceeds are reinvested into upgrading and expanding the University College and scholarship funds. I would like to thank the Board of Trustees and contributors in helping to make our dream of providing greater educational opportunities to as many individuals as possible.

I also thank our graduates and our exceptional achievers, who have embraced the opportunity to gain knowledge and solid qualifications, to go out and make a difference to our community.

You have all worked hard, and your parents and families have provided strong support and commitment to help you realise your success. You carry the flag of a unique University College and I wish you the best for the future.

Lastly, let me say that education is a lifelong journey. Do not cease learning simply because you have stepped out of school. I urge you to continue to acquire knowledge and apply what you have learnt, to make a difference and contribute to change for a better tomorrow.

All the best and may your dreams come true!

Message from the Vice-Chancellor

Professor Robert
Bignall

When our Chancellor Tan Sri Dato' Seri Dr Jeffrey Cheah founded a higher education institution called Sunway College in 1987, his vision was that it would provide quality education at an affordable cost to those who might otherwise have missed the opportunity for such advancement.

Sunway College started in 1987 with just 200 students, but it has grown since then in both size and stature. In 2004 it was elevated by the Ministry of Higher Education, Malaysia to the status of a university college. Having been empowered to offer its own degrees, Sunway University College nevertheless realised the importance of independently guaranteeing their quality. It therefore set out to ensure that its degrees were benchmarked by a world class university, so that they would receive the international recognition that is so vital for graduates in today's borderless world.

Following an affiliation agreement which was signed with Lancaster University in 2006 and through stringent quality assurance procedures, our degrees conform to the high standards of a first class British university and thus to those of the United Kingdom Quality Assurance Agency, as well as those of the Malaysian Qualifications Agency. As a testament to the international standard that they have achieved, the graduates of these validated programmes receive a degree scroll from Sunway together with a degree scroll from Lancaster. This is the second graduation ceremony at which these joint degrees are being awarded. I am proud that in today's ceremony many of you have been awarded first or upper second class honours degrees.

We are honoured today by the presence of the Vice-Chancellor of Lancaster University, Professor Paul Wellings. He is representing his Chancellor, Sir Christian Bonington, in granting Lancaster scrolls to those graduates who are eligible to receive them.

In some countries graduation ceremonies are called Commencements. That is because they are seen as the commencement of a new phase in the lives of those who are receiving their diplomas and degrees. Many will be starting their careers, while others plan to go on to further study.

I congratulate all of you who are being presented to the Chancellor for your degrees and diplomas. Your achievements are yours alone, but others have contributed to your success and must share in your joy. Your families have worked hard to support you during your studies, and your teachers have given you the knowledge and guidance that has enabled you to excel.

For those of you who are starting your careers, I hope that you will take pride in being an alumnus of Sunway University College and keep in touch through the alumni association. In this rapidly changing world you will find it necessary to keep up to date by further training and development. Life-long learning has become a necessity rather than a luxury. Perhaps, one day, you will return to Sunway to undertake one of the world-class postgraduate programmes that we offer.

Again, my heartiest congratulations to you all and I wish you every success for the future.

The Graduation Ceremony

The formal conferring of university degrees goes back to medieval times in the Europe, when scrolls, signifying their achievements, were granted to the graduates with great pomp and ceremony, reinforcing their rank, privileges and responsibilities in a highly stratified society. Graduation ceremonies were very rowdy affairs, however, exemplified by the lowering of a large wooden spoon, from the balcony in the Senate House in Cambridge, to the graduate who came bottom of the class in the Mathematics Tripos.

Nowadays such behaviour is frowned upon and the ceremonies have the dignity which befits the occasion. Special ceremonial robes are worn signifying, in the case of degrees, status as a bachelor, master or doctor, and the hoods, derived from medieval dress, signify the discipline or disciplinary group of the degree. A sash rather than a hood, worn over a black gown, signifies a diploma.

Academic Dress

The academic dress adopted by universities of the Commonwealth follows the style of Oxford or Cambridge. Sunway University College has adopted the Oxford style which, for bachelors, has a black gown and hood, the hood being lined with satin. The gown helps to distinguish between bachelors and masters but it is the colour of the lining of the hood that signifies the discipline group. The following colours are used to represent degrees in the respective Schools in Sunway:

School of Business and Law

■ Royal Fuchsia

School of Computer Technology

■ Mauve

School of Creative Arts and Communication

■ Navy Blue

School of Health and Natural Sciences

■ Spring Green

School of Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Management

■ Silver

The same colours are used in signifying diplomas but, instead of a hood, a sash is worn.

The Coat of Arms

Responsibility for the granting of Coats of Arms has rested with the College of Arms in London since AD1484. Applicants are considered by the Garter King of Arms, and if he deems the individual, family or organization to be worthy of this distinction then the Arms are duly granted. Registers are maintained to ensure that new designs are unique and that existing designs are protected.

In 2005 the Board of Sunway University College resolved to seek Arms from the College of Arms, and in May 2006, a grant of Arms to Sunway University College was approved.

The main elements of a Coat of Arms are the crest and the shield. Mottoes do not form a part of a grant of arms, but most grantees choose a succinct statement which represents individual or organizational statements of purpose or values.

The Sunway University College shield contains three geometric shapes known as "piles", each

"charged" with a golden sun. Together, the piles form a "W" and, with the suns, the device suggests the name Sunway. The stylized suns have a slight resemblance to the star, on a blue background, that appears on the Malaysian flag.

The crest is more obviously symbolic of Malaysia, consisting, as it does, of a Malaysian tiger. It is shown holding a torch, often used in heraldry to symbolize learning and teaching.

Our motto "Fortuna eruditis favet" derives from Louis Pasteur's famous phrase "la chance ne sourit qu'aux esprits bien préparés". Pasteur, commenting in 1855 on Oersted's "chance" discovery of electromagnetism, expressed the view that chance discoveries take place only in the context of a prepared mind. We have adapted the phrase to read "Fortune favours the prepared mind" and this was translated into Latin by Professor Thomas N Mitchell, Provost and Professor of Latin at Trinity College Dublin.

The Mace

In the medieval Europe, the mace was a weapon carried into battle by knights and warlike bishops, reflecting their status and prowess in the field. In the university context, it was carried as a weapon to protect the Chancellor, but it has now evolved into a purely ceremonial device signifying the dignity and authority of the Chancellor.

Designed by Royal Selangor Pewter Sdn Bhd, the Mace is 4.5ft in length. It is made of pewter in bright finish and its interior is supported by teakwood. Relevant parts are highlighted with 24-carat gold plating.

The head of the Mace is a shining sun in gold plate and, directly underneath, the University's Coat of Arms is hand chased in relief on 925 sterling silver. The Sunway progressive "S" and hibiscus flower, also hand chased on silver and gold, represent the parentage of Sunway University College, and the identity of Malaysia respectively. A crystal stone is set at the beginning of the name Sunway University College to mark the front section of the Mace.

The Mace rests on a nyatoh wood base in mahogany finish to complement the Chancellor's Chair.

The Chancellor's Chair

The Chancellor's chair is made of solid nyatoh wood, and finished in satin mahogany lacquer. The seat, backrest and armrests are wrapped with natural rich brown leather from Germany. The Chancellor's chair is made of solid nyatoh wood, and finished in satin mahogany lacquer. The seat, backrest and armrests are wrapped with natural rich brown leather from Germany.

The Coat of Arms of the University, in a highly sculptured relief on a finely textured background, and cast in pewter with gold plating, is placed at the apex of the backrest. The apex itself is modelled on the upper part of the portico of the Sunway University College building.

Sunway University College has its origins in Sunway College, founded by Tan Sri Dato' Seri Dr Jeffrey Cheah in 1987 to provide opportunities for young Malaysians to obtain higher education and training at the certificate, diploma and degree levels, especially in areas of national need. The first intake of students numbered about 200, enrolled in degree studies leading to bachelor degrees from a number of foreign universities. These courses were delivered through 'twinning' arrangements, pioneered by Sunway College, whereby students spent one or two years in Sunway and then transferred to the foreign university to complete their degrees.

Degree programmes of Western Michigan University (WMU) in the US were the first to be introduced and these were followed by twinning arrangements with a number of UK and Australian universities. In the late 1990s 3+0 degree programmes were approved by the Malaysian Government and Sunway College was able to offer the business degrees of Victoria University, Australia entirely in Malaysia while continuing the 2+2 programmes with WMU.

In addition, the Malaysian Government sanctioned the establishment of branch campuses of foreign universities and Sunway again took the initiative. In a historic agreement with Monash University, Australia, the first branch campus of a foreign university was established at the Sunway campus in 1998. In July 2007, Monash University Sunway Campus moved to a magnificent new campus at Jalan Lagoon Selatan, Bandar Sunway. It is currently offering a full range of undergraduate degrees, including medicine through its Tan Sri Jeffrey Cheah School of Medicine which was established in 2005.

In 2004 Sunway College was elevated to the status of a University College, by the then Minister of Higher Education YB Dato' Dr Shafie Mohd Salleh, with the power to grant degrees. The courses leading to these degrees are approved by the Ministry of Higher Education and the Malaysian Qualifications Agency (MQA). Sunway University College came into being with the vision of becoming the premier private higher education institution in the ASEAN region.

LANCASTER
UNIVERSITY

Early in 2005, Sunway University College and Lancaster University in the UK commenced discussions on how the two institutions might co-operate and, in the course of these discussions, which extended over one year, the concept of joint degrees was explored. Lancaster conducted an institutional review in March 2006, which involved a site visit by senior academics from the University and a senior academic from the University of Sussex. As a result, in September 2006, Lancaster approved the signing of an affiliation agreement between the two institutions. The agreement provides for the validation of all Sunway University College degrees by the Senate of Lancaster University following site visits by course consultants and lengthy panel discussions by video conference. Sunway University College students who successfully complete an honours degree course are now awarded both Sunway and Lancaster degrees, with separate scrolls from each institution.

Lancaster University, founded in 1964, is one of Britain's best research and teaching universities. In the authoritative Times Good Universities Guide 2009 it received an overall rank of 19 out of 113 UK universities. In research it was in 8th place; and it was one of five universities shortlisted in the UK Sunday Times for the 'University of the Year' award for 2007.

In Sunway University College, which now has the power to award its own degrees, it is important to be able to satisfy ourselves, our students, and their parents, that the degree courses that we offer are of the highest international standard. We are pleased that we have been able to satisfy the very stringent criteria that have been set by Lancaster University in its institutional review and the validation of our degrees. We continue to look forward to delivering our degree programmes in the knowledge that they have been validated by a first class British university in accordance with its own quality assurance protocols and those of the UK Quality Assurance Agency.

Postgraduate Programmes

In 2009 Sunway University College introduced five new masters programmes. All of these courses have been developed jointly with Lancaster University and lead to the award of joint Sunway and Lancaster degrees. They have all have been approved by the Ministry of Higher Education and the Malaysian Qualifications Agency (MQA).

Three of these masters degrees are with the renowned Lancaster University Management School (LUMS). LUMS is one of the top five management schools in the UK and it has been given a six star rating by the UK Quality Assurance Agency, one of only two to receive this grade. The other two masters degrees have been developed in collaboration with Lancaster's distinguished departments of Computing and Communication Systems.

In February 2006, Sunway University College signed an academic partnership agreement with Manchester Business School Worldwide whereby the Manchester MBA is delivered on the Sunway campus by faculty from the Manchester Business School and Sunway. Manchester Business School was established in 1965 as one of the first UK business schools, and it quickly established a reputation as a leading centre of management teaching and research. It is now acknowledged as one of the top ten business schools in Europe, and it is in the top 30 worldwide (Financial Times, 2008). It is one of a small number of business schools that have received the triple AMBA, AACSB and EQUIS accreditation. The Manchester MBA is the highest ranked management qualification offered in Malaysia. It is Ministry approved and is offered in two specialisations, namely MBA for Financial Managers and MBA for Engineering Business Managers. This course has attracted very strong demand and is operating at full capacity.

Since 2005 Sunway University College has also been successfully offering a twinning MBA with Victoria University, Australia.
