Group Family Day

This year's SungeiWay Group Family Day held at the Sunway Lagoon Waterpark was bigger than ever. More than 7100 staff and their family members attended the event on 9 October 1994. For the first time in Family Day history, staff and family members from the Group's southern and northern region offices also joined in the celebration.

There was no lack of activities to fill the day. Everyone was seen playing to his hearts content at the funfair games stalls, competition corners, dunking machine and slides. The dunking machine was the spot to be at. It was great fun having to "throw" PCs into the water and for a good cause too. Proceeds from that game were pledged towards a charity fund for family of staff who had lost their lives while on duty.

The Adventure Park, being a new feature in the Lagoon, was a great hit with the crowd. There were screams from the Runaway Train, Flying Carpet and Sky Flyer machines. Some strong at heart were asking for more while some had enough of the free fall and spins.

In all, it was a great day of fun.

GOING CRAZY IN IMPIANA, CHERATING

Die hards on the move! A bunch of 77 KSS members and some of their spouses took a chance of the wet gloomy monsoon storm to spend 3 Days/2 Nights at Impiana Resort, Cherating, Kuantan from 15 - 17 October 1994.

Instead, what greeted us was pure living in clover. The only sign of the monsoon approaching was the rain on the last day of our stay. Impiana may look simple and plain but it gave us the fun and leisure that we were looking for. Most of us were all set for a crazy holiday and we found it here in our little own way. Immediately after lunch at Impiana, we divided ourselves into 4 teams and zoomed off for our archery competition. We couldn't find a William Tell among us. The arrows were flying here, there, everywhere but not at the target! So, we were packed to the beach for volleyball. Of course, some others had found better things to do like hanging around coconut trees posing for the lens, relaxing in the whirlpool or literally splashing in the pool.

Dinner was BBQ by the poolside. During that time, a few crazy games were played. Fancy going to Vidal Sassons only to find your hair styled with a toothbrush and water pistol for a wet look. Banana split was also one of the games and Sweet Young Thing (SYT) where the leaders of each team were made up to look Sweet and Young. There was no doubt that Mor Chun Lin would win, he was simply irresistible.

Telematches the next day had us all roaring with laughter. In the Let's Get Dizzy event, a girl was seen running to the other direction and another was tumbling again and again. Construction At Work saw every worker pushing his 'Wheel Barrow' so forcefully to collect just a piece of block. Poor fellows, some of them had their faces practically buried in the sand.

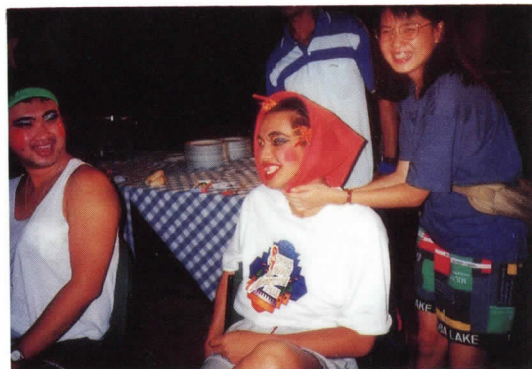

By the second night, the boogie bugs were itching for some action. Lead by En Abdullah, a bus load of them went off to the Legends. But before that, a short half hour treasure hunt was held. There was great fun - the holiday though short, was sweet and memorable to most of us but to some it was a truly 'stinging sensation'. That's because two of the guys from our group were out at sea rubbing shoulders with jelly fishes.

Leaving East Coast without some famous hand drawn batik, "harm yee", sotong bakar and ikan bilis is not doing justice to the place! The two buses were sardine packed with goodie bags of such things - oh what a sight and smell!

Christmas Charity Outing

YoYo busy sculpturing balloons for the children.

Jingle bells, jingle bells, jingle all the way..., Christmas spirit filled the air during the Christmas outing to Sunway Lagoon Waterpark for the less fortunate group.

341 children from seven welfare homes participated in the Charity Christmas Outing project, organised by Kelab Sukan Sunway, on 19th December 1994.

On arrival, these children were greeted with candies and other goodies. Then, throughout the day, they were entertained by YoYo, the balloon sculpture clown, Stanley the Magician, Santa Claus with his bag full of toys and presents, special ice-cream treat after lunch, party packs and non-stop action at all Sunway Lagoon's rides and slides.

The children were also showered with plenty of toys and gifts, generously contributed by the caring staff of SungeiWay Group, Sunway College students and the Bandar Sunway residents.

It was indeed a joyful occasion!

PRK BUILDERS & SUNGEI WAY ENTERPRISE'S FAMILY DAY

One big family - PRK Builders & Sungei Way Enterprise (1988)'s staff and families.

"Now, where is my shoe!"

It was a day of sheer fun and joy for 280 odd people including staff and their family members of PRK Builders and Sungei Way Enterprise who celebrated their family day at the Shah Alam Agriculture Park on 27th November 1994.

The tranquility of the park was broken that Sunday by an array of fun-filled activities. There were games like Hit the Target, Helicopter Game, Water Balloon, Creativity Game and so on. It was a fascinating sight to watch especially the sporting adults with their childlike antics.

The event was made even more lively with music dished out by a DJ. With breakfast, lunch and transport (by KSS bus) provided, it was indeed a day to remember for all those who were there!

It was a beautiful location for an outing!

Mentari Plaza

An artist impression of Mentari Plaza.

Mentari Plaza, latest launch of the 3 and 4-storey shopoffices, is another success story. This development is a joint-venture between Classic Horizon Sdn Bhd; the developer and PKNS, the landowner. Bandar Sunway Sdn Bhd takes on a different role for this project - as a Project Manager.

Classic Horizon had a soft launch on 26-11-94, and achieved a phenomenal take-up rate of 95%. This very successful launch is due to a few factors, particularly, Mentari Plaza's very advantageous location.

Mentari Plaza sits on a very prime piece of land. It faces the main thoroughfare that gives direct access to Federal Highway and Shah Alam Expressway, both less than 2 km away. Besides, it is also in close proximity to the North Klang Valley Expressway and the North-South Link Expressway.

Mentari Plaza enjoys being next to our award winning township, where all our properties have appreciated significantly since their respective launches. Sunway Metro, a similar development, just diagonally across, have appreciated more than 55% since its launch just a year ago.

Mentari Plaza is also located in a fast-growth area, where it is immediately adjacent to Bandar Sunway and nearby neighbourhood which includes Sri Subang, Subang Indah, Subang Jaya, USJ and Kelana Jaya. These locations have experienced tremendous growth in recent years, and these have given rise to a middle-to-upper-income population. It is here that one finds establishments such as a first-class medical centre, popular shopping complexes, prestigious office buildings, golf courses and international-class hotels.

Future projects nearby include Sunway Capitol; a mega-theme shopping mall, and Sunway Lagoon Resort Hotel; a very unique hotel which will have the largest surf wave pool and a grand ballroom with banqueting facilities of up to 2,200 pax.

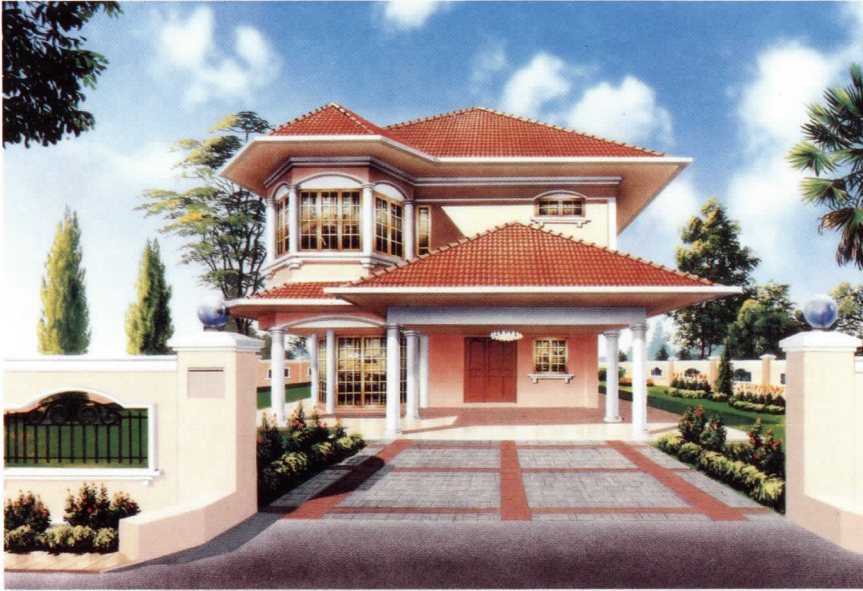

Mentari Plaza itself is well planned. It has attractive facade that comes with a practical layout. Even the colour scheme is a refreshing change. All these make them conducive to a wide variety of business applications.

With all these in its favour, Mentari Plaza is a sure success. Future phases include 3 and 4 storey shopoffices, middle-cost apartments, hotel and showroom centres. All interested parties, kindly call 735 8886.

counsel...ling

Valerie Jaques, the ever-friendly counsellor

Counselling was something that you needed if you had a big problem; those days! Not anymore.

At Sunway College, you see students frequenting the Student Counsellor's room and it literally keeps the ever-friendly lady occupied throughout the day.

Valerie Jaques, the counsellor with a smiling, friendly face, made a career out of helping students with problems, varying from family, relationships to studying and stress-related problems.

Counselling services provided by the Student Services Department, is made known to all Sunway College students during orientation where the department is introduced and study skills workshops are organised.

"The workshops provide two way communication which helps the students overcome their shyness and eventually talk about the problems they are facing," said Valerie.

Initially, students go to her with problems relating to their courses, such as combination of subjects in relation to their future careers. Once they are used to this, they start confiding in her about their problems with families, friends, etcetera.

According to Valerie, more students have realised that every individual is plagued with some kind of problem in his life, this is especially so when coping with growth and studies. And, there is nothing to be shy about going for counselling. In fact, it is a healthy avenue for discussing problems, especially when one is assured of confidentiality.

With 6 years experience behind her, Valerie is taking things in her stride, although her former counselling work was with a women's organisation, where she dealt with an entirely different set of problems.

Valerie having a discussion with some students.

Participants of the Counselling Seminar organised by Sunway College with Valerie, who was the speaker.

Elizabeth Lee, Associate Director of Sunway College, handing out certificate to a participant of the seminar.

A graduate in Science, Valerie went through a one year training in counselling at a counselling centre attached to her church, where she did volunteer services. She also pursued a two-year correspondence course in counselling.

There is still ongoing training that she attends every now and then. Training is conducted by psychiatrists, psychologists, religious teachers, social workers and counsellors, from abroad and locally.

Imparting her knowledge to students, Valerie has embarked on training Peer Counsellors among students. This would enable students to confide in their peers who are trained.

Counselling at Sunway College has indeed taken on a very meaningful role in students' development, so much so that they have taken the lead to organise seminars for counsellors from various schools and institutions throughout the Klang Valley.
